Coffee County High School News

New Hope

New Hope School would like to pay tribute to its basketball team for a spirited and successful season in the scheduled games for the year. Three straight victories were the outcome of its first three games against its worthy opponents. New Brockton, Kinston, and Mr. Pleasant. Much enthusiasm was shown over the games, all of which were hard-fought and close. The team shows promise of a successful year.

The Halloween Carnival was held October 29th, and was a success. Each grade participated in the activities. A Halloween program preceded the crowning of the successful candidates for King and Queen. The program included "The Origin of Halloween," "The Pumpkin Song," numerous dances, including the "Hickety-Pickety," interpretive waltzes, and a South

Western dance. The traditional Halloween attraction for youngsters, winning the Elementary King and Queen honors were Cindy Ward and David Nolin for the first grade. They were crowned by last year's queen, Reba Allen.

Junior high honors went to Ninth graders, Martha Ann Downing, queen, and her escort, Tim Bragg. The crowning ceremony was done by Diane Fillingim, last year's Junior High queen.

With barbecues, P.T.A. meetings, report card issuing, etc., New Hope School has had a busy and active October.

Recent Bride Honored With Shower

Mrs. Earl McCollough, a recent bride, was honored Thursday afternoon with a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. Joe Mosley, Co-hostesses with Mrs. Mosley were Mrs. Leon Maddox and Mrs. Robbie Russell.

Green and white was the color theme used in decoration. The refreshment table was covered with white net over green. The set was caught at intervals with festoons of white ribbon and wedding bells.

A crystal punch bowl, encircled with delicate greenery and small white flowers, formed the centerpiece. Triple crystal candelabrum holding white tapered lighted green ribbons flanked the punch bowl.

The color theme was emphasized in the punch and individual embossed cakes. Cheryl Devane and Paula Nan Smith served the punch, cakes, sandwiches, and nuts.

Mrs. Mosley was at the door to greet the guests and present them to the receiving line composed of the honoree, Mrs. Earl McCollough, the groom's mother, Mrs. L.C. McCollough, and his sister, Mrs. Earl Simon.

Mrs. Robbie Russell registered the guests and Mrs. Leon Maddox and Mrs. Roland Powell assisted in the gift room.

The honoree wore a white broadcloth sheath dress. Her shoulder carried white carnations.

THROUGH THE KEYHOLE

BY MRS. ROBERT CANNON

A REAL TREAT was enjoyed this morning by the "Jack and Jill Kindergarten" when the group was taken to Enterprise by their teacher, Carolyn Stokes, to see a puppet show. Each year this same New York troupe comes to Enterprise and presents a memorable show at the school auditorium and the youngsters look forward to the next presentation. Last year's offering was "Alice in Wonderland" and so professionally done that even Lewis Carroll would have approved.

And last week saw another little Stokes grow a year older. "Happy Birthday, Susan."

"THE MORE WE SET TOGETHER" could well have been sung this past weekend by Ora Sewell and her sister Chloe who were visiting here from Tallahassee, Florida. Chloe and her husband Oley Sellers are a popular couple here and this almost-week-long visit proved no exception. The Sellers were taking a vacation trip from business and civic duties and chose to spend a part of it with Ora and Al.

REGRETTED to learn that Lote Hudson was hospitalized in Montgomery for spinal surgery. We certainly hope that she is not away from Elba too long.

HAVING SPENT last weekend teasing Ed Cooper because his car left our party of five stranded by

SHADES OF THE ROARING TWENTIES and if you missed seeing the middle years by three young ladies last Sunday you missed a real treat. Carol and Vicki Vaughan were navy blue pleated skirts and long, middy blouses with long sleeves and jaunty air. Beverly Rainer's outfit was muted, red plaid with black leather tabs at the hip line completed by long, black stockings. We do like this season's children's clothes.

ENJOYED a long conversation with Edna Brunson who told us that two weeks ago she and Jack visited friends in Tuscaloosa where Jack also attended to some business matters. They were accompanied by their children, Barbara, Jackie, and Barry. At game time they PRESENT we heard about by Herbie Wise from the Boyd Murphrees, Boyd and Kate presented him with a ticket to the Auburn Homecoming game and they and daughter Janna went along to see that he had a perfectly wonderful time. It was a real nice birthday gesture. We wondered if they saw Jane and Russell Cash who were also there.

HOME COMING at the University found many Elbians greeting each other on the tree lined streets. Jean and Erle Paul went early in order to be present at the wedding of Doctor Rose's oldest daughter, who incidentally wears the pearl "X" and horseshoe, on her sweaters. Irma and Milton Warr were with daughter Sara and Bryce Paul and enjoyed seeing Janet Warr as well as attending various alumni functions with Jean and Judge Paul.

It must have been children's Day at the campus as many parents elected to bring along their offspring. Bill Stokes and son David were having a happy time as were Ed Cooper and daughter Sheryl. Ben and Doris Brock make an annual event of this weekend, taking Barry and Nancy to the Alabama campus that was their first home as newlyweds. Elizabeth and Leroy Miller were accompanied by Elaine Miller and Johnny Kendrick and, also, Ann Waters, who was escorted to the Pi Kappa Phi fraternity party by Frank Wilkes. And we took our second car trip along for the first trip to the University.

New Brockton FHA Initiates Sixteen New Members
Sixteen new members were initiated into the New Brockton Chapter, Future Homemakers of America, at its bi-monthly meeting in October.

Members initiated into the chapter were: Betty Jo Blanton, Louise Cardwell, Faye Carter, Audrey Griswold, Rhonda Griswold, Gayle Harrison, Joyce Hutto, Ruth McDermott, Elizabeth Moore, Barbara Rogers, Becky Sawyer, Reatha Sawyer, Betty Sue Sims, Martha Faye Spinks, Jeannette Strickland, and Janice Todd.

Formerly known as Armistice Day, the designation was changed to veterans day by an act of congress signed by the President on June 1, 1954. The law is titled: "An Act To Honor Veterans Of November Of Each Year . . . A Day Dedicated To World Peace."

World peace—peace with honor and dignity for the individual—is it possible for any man or woman to aspire to a loftier achievement? In Alabama there are more than 300,000 men and women who have passed the greatest test of their citizenship—honorable military service in defense of their country in time of war.

And throughout the world—in nearly landscaped cemeteries and unmarked ocean graves—there are those millions of gallant Americans who made the supreme sacrifice to preserve the great American ideal of justice, freedom and democracy.

Veterans Day is a time to remember the war dead and recognize also the men and women who have demonstrated their devotion and allegiance by putting their own lives in jeopardy and knowingly facing the hazards of combat to preserve this nation built on individual freedom.

America has grown into the great and powerful nation it is today because every generation of Americans has contributed men and women who set the cost of liberty above life itself.

But Veterans Day should be more than an occasion to honor those who have defended their country in time of war. This should also be a great day of rededication to American ideals by all citizens, young or old, veteran or non-veteran. This should be a day for each American to firmly resolve to put love of God and country first and foremost in his daily living.

This great nation lives today, thanks to the patriotic men and women of every generation who responded to the challenge confronting their liberty and met it with sacrificial spirit.

The individual posts of the American Legion throughout Alabama urge all citizens and their communities to join with them in commemorating this most auspicious occasion when America will pause to pay tribute to those who have served in all wars, especially at 11:00 A.M. on November 11 when one minute of silence will be observed to commemorate those who paid the supreme sacrifice in defense of their country.

Scenes Of Elba Citizens Taking Oral Polio Vaccine
